DOCKET NO. 2005-12

IN THE MATTER OF $ TEXAS STATE BOARD OF
THE LICENSE OF $ VETERINARY MEDICAL EXAMINERS
JASON R. FOSKEY, D.V.M. $

AGREED ORDER

On this the 17th day of February, 2005, came on to be considered by the Texas State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners ("Board") the matter of the license of JASON R. FOSKEY, D.V. M. ("Respondent") Pursuant to Section 801.408, Texas Occupations Code and Board Rule 575.27, an informal conference was held on November 10, 2004. The Respondent appeared without counsel. The Board was represented by the Board’s Enforcement Committee.

Respondent, without admitting the truth of the findings and conclusions set out in this Agreed Order, wishes to waive a formal adjudicative hearing and thereby informally dispose of the issues without a formal adjudication. Respondent agrees to comply with the terms and conditions set forth in this Order. In waiving an adjudicative hearing, Respondent acknowledges his understanding of the alleged violations and the adequacy and sufficiency of the notice provided to him.

Upon the recommendation of the Enforcement Committee and with Respondent’s consent, the Board makes the following Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law and enters this Agreed Order as set forth below.

Findings of Fact

2. On April 24th, Ms. Pietuszka presented her dog to Dr. Foskey because of acute swelling of the left stifle and lameness of the limb. Dr. Foskey strongly urged that “Mickey” be hospitalized. Dr. Foskey suspected an anaerobic infection because of the swelling and an elevated body temperature, and administered metronidazole for the infection. In determining the proper dosage of metronidazole, Dr. Foskey determined from Plumb’s Veterinary Drug Handbook (Third edition) that the appropriate dosage is 25-50 mg/kg. Dr. Foskey decided to use the high end of the dosage. He determined the correct dosage to be 2300 mg twice a day, but his clinic had only unscored 500 mg tablets. He decided to prescribe five tablets twice daily (5000 mg total), slightly higher than the calculated dosage. Dr. Foskey also prescribed Baytril, which was changed to Zenequin upon sending “Mickey” home.

3. The dog was placed in the clinic’s intensive care unit and monitored. No adverse effects were noted and the leg recovered. The dog was released on April 26th. On April 29th, Ms. Pietuszka telephoned Dr. Foskey and reported that “Mickey” was passing dark colored urine. Urinalysis revealed a trace of blood. Dr. Foskey elected to continue the dog on metronidazole and Zenequin because the dog was showing no other signs of being sick.

4. On May 3rd, Ms. Pietuszka reported to Dr. Foskey that “Mickey” was having seizures. Dr. Foskey performed blood work and determined that the dog was showing signs of metronidazole toxicity. The metronidazole was immediately discontinued. The dog remained in the clinic until May 5, 2003, when he was discharged with instructions to continue on Zenequin only. During subsequent conversations with Ms. Pietuszka, the metronidazole dosing was discussed, but Dr. Foskey was not sure Ms. Pietuszka understood the explanation.

5. Dr. Foskey’s administration of a larger than recommended dosage of metronidazole and his failure to discontinue the medication on April 29th when the first adverse effects of the drug became evident, do not represent the same degree of humane care, skill, and diligence in treating patients as is ordinarily used in the same or similar circumstances by average members of the veterinary medical profession in good standing in Orange, Texas, or similar communities
